

What's your teaching planning style?

Academic recovery requires some planning as you strategize how to best support small groups and one-on-one interventions. But teachers plan lots of things—lessons, assessments, conferences, and more. Take this quiz to find out what your teaching planning style says about you!

Directions: Answer each question and record the number of points associated with each answer. At the end, add up your points to reveal your planning style.

1. Arriving on Monday morning, my copies for the day are...

- Done and filed! They were actually copied weeks ago since I prepared everything for the month... 5 points
- Oh yeah, I do need that worksheet for 3rd period. I should be able to copy a class set during the 5 minute break between recess and lunch. 9 points
- Loaded in Google Drive, I just need to send them to the printer. 4 points
- I'm not positive what topic we're covering today. I'll text my team, and we'll figure out who can make copies for everyone. 2 points

2. My ideal lesson planning spot is...

- Wherever it happens! Sometimes it's at my kitchen table on a Sunday night or at my desk during the day if I have a cool idea. 6 points
- With my teammates in my friend's classroom. I'll bring the snacks! 1 point
- My desk where I can access my teacher guides, resources, and my pen collection to make color-coordinated notes. 4 points
- Anywhere I can bring my laptop! I have all my curriculum and resources linked digitally. 3 points

3. You're most likely to find _____ on my desk.

- My document camera and wireless mouse. 4 points
- A fresh pack of sticky notes and stickers organized by size and color. 5 points
- A note from my teacher bestie thanking me for the coffee. 3 points
- Piles of papers I need to grade and pass back. 7 points

4. When planning for small group instruction, I usually begin by...

- Sitting down with other grade level teachers to analyze results from our last assessment. 2 points
- Walking around the room to monitor student progress. Then I pull groups in-the-moment to best meet student misunderstandings I see. 7 points
- Looking at the data I collected from formative assessments on my spreadsheet tracker. 3 points
- Assigning students to one of four rotating groups that meet during our daily small group time at 9:25 a.m. 6 points

5. If I wasn't a teacher, I would most likely be a...

- World traveler 8 points
 - Digital curriculum designer 3 points
 - Salesperson 1 point
 - Project manager 5 points
